Chief Crispen thanked Chief Brown for helping with this drill. Chief Crispen reported that several members received commendations. Lieutenant Chris Pratt was honored by the Olympic Club for rescuing a person playing golf. Chief Marc Kasper was nominated for a San Francisco Bay Area Planning and Urban Research Association (SPUR) Good Government Award. Chief Rabbit and Firefighter Carla Kasper, Chief Kasper's wife, were present to commemorate Chief Kasper. The Board of Supervisors (BOS) honored Commissioner Nakajo for his service to the City, especially Japantown. 5. Presentation on the 2025 Fire Code and Sprinkler Retrofit Technical Advisory Council Ordinance (TAC) [Discussion]

Fire Marshal Chad Law to provide an update on the 2025 Fire Code and the Fire Code Technical Advisory Council Ordinance (TAC).

Fire Marshal Law reported that following the passing of the Fire Code, the BOS established the Fire Code Technical Advisory Council (TAC). TAC will evaluate and advise the BOS, Mayor, and Department regarding requests to modify compliance requirements under the Fire Code. The TAC will consist of 11 board members comprised of 6 BOS appointees and representatives from other stakeholders such as homeowners' associations, a licensed C-16 fire protection contractor; construction professional; and a licensed structural engineer or a licensed architect. Fire Marshal Law reported that the Department, Public Utilities Commission (PUC), Department of Building Inspection (DBI), and a BOS member are part of the BOS appointed seats. Fire Marshal Law will work with Deputy City Attorney Sarah Fabian on finding administrative support for TAC. He recommended Secretary Aguas-Aclan for the position pending Commission approval. Captain Tracy O'Keefe has been designated to schedule the inaugural TAC meeting. TAC will sunset one year after the inaugural meeting unless extended. There will be two meetings per month for the first 90 days, followed by monthly meetings. TAC will provide findings after the 90-day period.

Commissioner Nakajo thanked Fire Marshal Law for his update.

Vice President Low inquired if there would be another extension for compliance with the Fire Code Ordinance. Fire Marshal Law responded that the Department advocated not to have extensions, but given that the Fire Code is reviewed every three years, the BOS and Department personnel at that time, can review the code. Fire Marshal Law hoped that the TAC will provide more discussion and provide more information for stakeholders. Commissioner Low inquired how TAC's findings would be handled. Fire Marshal Law responded that findings would be used as guidance in making final decision regarding possible modifications to compliance.

President Collins inquired if the Department has contacted real estate developers about the sprinkler requirements. She commented that gaining the support of professionals who understand the importance of sprinklers would be helpful. Fire Marshal Law responded that the Department website has sprinkler information. There is also information available publicly from organizations like the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) that support sprinkler retrofits.

Chief Crispen commented that he is aware of the challenges of installing sprinklers in buildings that may not be compliant with current building codes. The Department is taking that into consideration, and will continue communicating with the public.

Commissioner Nakajo supports outreach and education so that the public will be informed. He hoped the TAC would help address the issue of financial hardship.

8. Amendments to Amended Rules of Order, Including but not Limited To Rule 5: Regular Meeting Location and Times [Discussion and action]

Discussion and possible action to amend the Commission's Amended Rules of Order, including but not limited to Rule 5 regarding Commission regular meetings. The Amended Rules of Order are available on the Fire Commission website.

Commissioner Nakajo was concerned about amending the Amended Rules of Order to hold meetings once a month in terms of subject matter. He appreciated Chief Rabbit's summary report, but commented that reports and thus meetings are longer because there is more information to give to the Commission. If there is a closed session meeting, meetings can run even longer. Commissioner Nakajo suggested that the agenda be modified to alleviate these issues.

Commissioner Morgan commented that as long as the Commission was not violating any rules, and could efficiently conduct Commission business, he was in favor of once-a-month meetings. He liked Commissioner Nakajo's suggestion of modifying the agenda, and is in favor of having more updates from Command Staff.

Vice President Low commented that there is always the option of holding special meetings as necessary. He was in favor of once-a-month meetings.

President Collins commented that once a month meetings allows the Commission to meet with Command Staff in a consistent and timely manner. She has begun collaborating with the Department to forecast issues that require Commission consideration such as the budget. The ability to call for special meetings with 72 hours' notice will provide the flexibility to address any time sensitive issues.

Chief Crispen requested to agendize summary reports at each meeting from either Chief Rabbitt or Chief Brannan. President Collins approved the request which will keep the Commission informed of Department issues in a timely manner.

Vice President Low moved to approve the Amended Rules of Order, including but not limited to Rule 5 regarding Commission regular meetings. Commissioner Morgan Seconded. President Collins, Vice President Low, and Commissioners Nakajo and Morgan, voted in favor of the motion. The Motion passed.

There was no public comment.
